Seasons Center Partners with Northwest Bank for Holiday Fundraiser

SPENCER – This holiday season, Northwest Bank has partnered with Seasons Center for Behavioral Health to raise money to purchase resources for the 2,072 children our agency is caring for.

Participating Northwest Bank locations include Arnold's Park, Estherville, Sioux Center, Spencer, Spirit Lake, and Storm Lake. We encourage you to participate by picking an ornament off the tree, giving it to the teller, and donating the suggested donation price labeled on the ornament. Your gracious donation will be used to purchase resources, which include balance boards, weighted blankets, and fidget friends, helping children heal who have endured abuse or trauma, who have autism or another spectrum disorder, who have experienced loss, grief, or divorce of parents, among other things.

“We are grateful for Northwest Bank’s willingness to come together with us on reaching out to our communities to help the children who need us,” said Kim Scorza, Executive Director of Seasons Center. “Look for the beautiful white branch trees in your local Northwest Bank and help us help our kids!”
